

A MESSAGE TO OUR COURSE REGISTRANTS REGARDING COVID-19 (7.15.20)

We have worked closely with our hotel partners to modify our meeting room set up to the most stringent health and safety guidelines.

The meeting rooms are set with 1 chair per table, which will allow for a 6-foot or more radius around each seat, and a minimum of 65 square feet per person in the meeting room. Due to the reduced meeting room capacity, attendance will be limited to 30% of our usual maximum enrollment. All attendees also have the option of logging into the live webinar stream and watching lectures from their guest rooms, outdoor public space, or anywhere with wifi access.

In our welcome email that we send you the week before the course starts, in addition to reminders about the schedule, links to download a color .pdf of the syllabus, weblinks to claim your CME and SA-CME credits, we will also be providing information about new check-in procedures and reminders about seating and mask-wearing. We do not require sign-ins to verify your attendance; you will be able to certify your attendance online and print out your own certificates.

Our host hotels have issued guidelines to ensure all guests have a safe stay - you can find a weblink to their protocols on the course webpage.

Everyone must make the right decision for themselves and their family on their choices for continuing medical education. We now offer a webinar registration option for most of our courses - the live webinar offers the same number of CME and SAMs credit as the scheduled courses and includes 14-day access to re-play. In addition, we offer fully accredited On-Demand CME courses.

We are cautiously optimistic about being able to proceed with learning as scheduled, however, we are monitoring the situation closely. To offer you flexibility, all cancellations received by September 30th are fully refundable.
